The Muse 2.0

Candlenut is a classic off white, named after the flowering Candlenut tree whose processed fruit was used as a sustainable lighting fuel alternative before electricity took over in the late 19th century. This chalky soft hue is both sophisticated and understated.

Pleasure Garden is a silvery green grey, popular in the 19th century and just like its namesake has an irresistible intrigue and depth, working brilliantly in exterior situations.

Hackles is an otherworldly hue, referencing the rich black – and in some lights almost blue – ruff of feathers at the base of a raven's neck. It's complexity only adds to its charm.

Pomona references the infamous Bloomsbury group, to whom this rich brick-red pays homage. The warmth of the dark terracotta perfectly juxtaposes the cool concrete it was often paired with in the gardens of Charleston House.

Selvedge named after the highly prized denim fabric, this is our take on the classic Selvedge blue. Designed to create a familiar and friendly atmosphere, this light grey-blue colour is best-placed in evening spaces such as bedrooms or cosy living areas.

Setting Plaster our recreation of the beloved Setting Plaster, this shade references the dusty pink hues found in freshly plastered walls. It complements both classic and contemporary home settings, as well as garden patios and balconies.

Claycourt is a warm, earthy orange drawn from the rich tones of traditional clay tennis courts.

Posset is a soft, creamy yellow inspired by the citrus freshness of a British lemon posset.

Cast in a signature solid brass, this is a special edition of The Muse. The vivid sheen and smooth texture evoke a gold-like extravagance, manifested further by its impressive weight

Rugged Muse is an adventure-ready version of Tala's award-winning Muse lantern. The Rugged Muse has been upgraded with shatter-resistant acrylic and is IP65 water resistant.
